

SKELETON COAST CAMP, NAMIBIA

Set within a vast private concession, Skeleton Coast Camp offers couples the chance to escape civilisation and travel to what feels like the end of the earth.

Namibia's Skeleton Coast is a landscape of empty desert, huge sand dunes, canyons and rough coastline strewn with whale bones, seal colonies, driftwood and shipwrecks. On first impression there is nothing there, yet with the help of a guide you'll soon discover its hidden life. The six-tent camp on a dry riverbed provides the perfect base to explore. This isn't for couples looking for luxury but it's a destination for those wanting to be blown away by one of the most beautiful places on the planet.

BOOK IT Africa Travel Centre (0845 450 1536; africatravel.co.uk) offers four nights at Skeleton Coast Camp from £3,960pp, including activities, meals, BA flights and transfers.
